Antique Original Brown Painted Rustic Wood Door

Old doors are finding new life and purpose in modern homes today, and this one will make a great addition due to the wonderful deep panels and raised diamonds that add dimension to it. Unique to this door is the triangular molding that reminds one of a roof, capping off the upper portion of the left-hinged door. The brown paint is all original, and has aged and distressed over time which simply adds more character to this vintage single door. The hand-wrought iron hinges remain, creating a fun contrast to the wood itself.
