Antique White Painted Rococo Display Cabinet

Lovely rococo curves and carvings accentuate this striking Vitrine or display cabinet from Sweden. Note the exaggerated curves and heavily carved feet that combine for dramatic effect. The newer, professionally applied white painted layered finish provides a fresh, updated look and is complimented with a contrasting light blue painted interior. Please take a moment to enlarge the photos and examine the details up close. This large cabinet is built in 2 sections, making installation easier. This enchanting display cabinet has been restored, all drawers function and it is ready to be used and enjoyed. Any scratches, dings, minor separations are age-related and do not detract from the beauty nor function of this piece.
